L.O To be able to write a set of instructions 12th January 2021

Yesterday you wrote some notes on how to play a quiz game. This might have been Countdown or another TV quiz.

Today, we would like you to write a set of instructions on how to play the quiz game. Remember you will need to use time conjunctions (like first, next, after that, later on, afterwards, a while later, subsequently, meanwhile, after a while, finally, consequently, in the end...) to explain the order of events in the show. Imagine the person you are writing for has no idea how the show works, so you will need to explain it to them really clearly...

How to play Countdown

Initially you have to choose 9 consonants and vowels.

Secondly you get a 30 second countdown. This is for you to find the biggest letter word you can find.

Next you tell everyone what your longest word was.

After whoever has the longest word they ask you to say it and someone says if its spelt correct. (You do this for 3 rounds).

You take it in turns to pick the letters in each round.

When 3 rounds are up you choose 6 numbers which you can choose high or low.

Then you have 30 seconds to get the goal number-for example-the goal is 245.

Finally you say your number you got to and how you done it.

Lastly, the winner is the person with the most points at the end of the game.
